

Eriyadu Island

Contributed by Gunnar
Last Updated Saturday, 13 August 2011

Eriyadu Island is located in the north west of the North Mal Atoll, which makes it easily accessible by boat from Male. Surrounded by beaches, it offers large and comfortable double bungalows, and no matter where you are, it is just a few steps into the water. I can't say much about other islands and resorts in the Maldives, but reports say, that Eriyadu still has the atmosphere of the old times, and people like it for that. No water bungalows, just a restaurant, a bar and a dive center, and that's it. Sure, if you are looking for a budget place you might have to go somewhere else, either stay in a hotel in Male or choose another destination. Check their offers regularly and you might find good bargains in low season.

Eriyadu has an excellent house reef, and many divers find everything they expect from their dive holiday on this reef. Besides there are also daily boat trips to other dive sites around, and the North Male Atoll has to offer some of the best dive sites in the Maldives.

See more pictures in the Maldives Gallery